According to NBC New York, pet food company "Nature's Variety" is pulling three different sized packages of their 'Instinct Raw Chicken Formula' products due to possible Salmonella contamination.

The products involved are:

- Instinct Raw Chicken Formula Bites for Dogs 4lb, UPC #769949611431
- Instinct Raw Chicken Formula Bites for Dogs 7lb, UPC #769949611448
- Instinct Raw Chicken Formula Patties for Dogs 6lb, UPC #769949611486

The "Best by" date is 04/27/16 for all three packages and can be found on the back below the seal.

If you are concerned you may have purchased one of the recalled Nature's Variety products, visit the company's website for more information.
